CV & Cover Letter Guide (with Templates)

A professional CV and cover letter — with templates — Free preview

A CV is a short picture of your professional identity. An employer sees this first, so what it says must be true, clear, and matched to the job. A good CV is not about fancy design — it is about the right information being easy to find.

Many people put everything from their life into a CV, and their real skills get lost. This guide shows what to keep, what to leave out, and how to adjust your CV a little for each job you apply for.

What is it?

A cover letter is not a repeat of your CV. It is a short letter where you say why you want this job and which of your experiences fit the work. A cover letter longer than one page is rarely read in full.

At the end of this guide there are two ready templates — one CV template and one cover letter template. Replace the parts in brackets with your own details and they are ready to use.

How to start — a glimpse

1. Read the job advertisement carefully. Note which skills and experience it asks for.
2. Put your name, phone number, and email address at the top. Keep the email address professional — avoid nicknames or odd words.
